

Universität Hamburg

DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

Digital Language Variation in Context

DILCO METHODS DAY • FRIDAY 6 OCTOBER 2023

Post-digital linguistic ethnography: A day-in-the-life approach to understanding contemporary communication

Agnieszka Lyons & Caroline Tagg
(Queen Mary University of London & Open University)

Tying together the Total Linguistic Fact: Multi-method approaches to smartphone-based interactions

Florian Busch (University of Bern)

Mediagrams in the study of digital workplace interaction, home-school communication, and inclusion

Kristin Vold Lexander (Inland Norway University)

Reflecting on fascism: Critical reflexivity as method for exploring the offline/online nexus in a study of white male supremacy

Catherine Tebaldi (University of Luxembourg)

Discussion: Methodological innovations, quandaries and directions forward

Camilla Vasquez (University of South Florida)

METHODS FOR ON/OFFLINE NEXUS ANALYSIS:

Multi-sited ethnography and heterogeneous data management

University of Hamburg
On-site: Main Campus, VMP 8
Online via Zoom

Registration and Information:
www.dilco.uni-hamburg.de

